

A WORTHY EXAMPLE.

In the present days, when hoodlumism appears to be the prevailing element among the rising generation on the Comstock, it is refreshing, says the Footlight, to have here and there a case of genuine nobility among the boys who were born and brought up on the Comstock. There are a great many such cases to be sure, but they are the exception and not the rule. Among the most prominent of the boys whom the Comstock may well feel proud of is Jack Neall, who recently graduated from West Point and has been assigned to the Fourth Cavalry, U. S. A. Young Neall did not have the advantage of wealth or a collegiate education, but depended solely upon knowledge gained from our public schools, and when he was appointed a candidate for admission to West Point he went to Washington to compete with lads, who had all the advantages that wealth and influence could bestow, but with hard work, and indomitable will and commendable ambition, the lad pulled through and passed the rigid examination which an applicant has to undergo before he can be admitted as military cadet. The example set by young Neall should be emulated by every school boy on the Comstock and instead of amusing themselves by shooting Chinamen or doing damage to citizens, properly they should devote their time to study and improvement and thus become an honor to themselves and State instead of a disgrace.

OUR WHEAT CROP

The Carson Index says it is estimated that no less than seven hundred tons of wheat—good, bad and indifferent—have been raised in Carson Valley during the present season. Truckee Meadows will answer for about three hundred tons of good milling wheat, besides fifty or one hundred tons more of inferior quality. Pretty good for Western Nevada. In this connection, Alf Doten writing to the Enterprise from Austin, speaks of the Reese Valley, as follows:

The new flouring mill, at Ledlie, some half dozen miles from here, on the banks of the raging Reese, proved to be the complete success that it was anticipated to be, and has turned out numerous sacks of most excellent flour, which finds very ready sale in Austin, as it should. Hereafter wheat will doubtless be made the principal grain crop, in order to keep that mill in profitable work. The wheat produced in this section is generally plump, heavy and good, with a fair average yield per acre, and very little more cost in raising than in many sections of our more favored sister State, California. Many a poor farmer in the Golden State is happy if he is lucky enough to get half as much for his wheat as our farmers do. By judicious management of the wheat production and in selling the flour a trifle cheaper than other brands can be transported from California and elsewhere over the railroads, our grain producing farmers should control their own market, and Reese River flour, its superior excellence alone, find ready sale in outside localities.

Why It Weakened.

Under Mayor Bryant's administration in San Francisco an artesian well was sunk at the new City Hall. For a time it afforded all the water required for that extensive structure, but subsequently began to weaken, and Supervisor Rankin has just made public the methods employed to destroy its usefulness; it had been dosed with a barrel of cement.

Postmaster General Gresham will, in his forthcoming report, take stronger grounds in favor of the adoption of a postal telegraph system than any of his predecessors. Gresham will also urge the establishment of a postal savings bank system, similar to that of England, which has been found to work very successfully.

General Sherman has fired upon the first of November as the date upon which he will turn over the command to General Sheridan, and practically retire to civil life, although he will not be placed on the retired list of the army until the 31st of February.

Butler has been re-nominated for Governor of Massachusetts by both Greenbackers and Democrats, and it will be a "cold day" when old Ben gets left.

INSTANTLY KILLED.

A Man's skull Fractured by a Threshing Machine Belt.

Last Friday afternoon, says the Tuscarora Times-Review, the belt of the threshing machine at Jesse Winters' ranch on Silver Creek was becoming detached from the driving wheel when James Elwood, who was feeding, seized a scantling to prevent its coming off. In attempting to re-adjust the belt, the end of the heavy rubber lagging became detached from the wheel, and unwinding, acting like a whip, struck Elwood on the head and neck, killing him instantly. The wheel was revolving at the rate of six or seven hundred revolutions per minute, and the blow must have been a powerful one, as the skull was fractured and his neck broken. Deceased was a native of Iowa and about 30 years of age. He was a quiet industrious man, of the strictest integrity, and greatly esteemed by all who knew him.

The Chinese Restriction Act Sound at Every Point.

Judge Field, of the United States Supreme Court, sitting in banc with Judge Sawyer, rendered a final decision Monday in respect of the rights claimed by the Chinese born in Hongkong to land in the United States. He rules that the fact of a Chinaman being born in Hongkong does not constitute him a British subject. He enlarges on the fact that Congress never intended to disregard the requirements of a treaty with a foreign government. An Act of Congress, he says, must be construed according to its manifest intent, and must be so enforced by Courts of law. In respect of the Restriction Act, no consideration was deemed necessary to the position of other governments regarding the Chinese within their borders; its object was to exclude Chinese laborers from any part of the world. It was known that Hongkong would pour Chinese laborers into our country every year unless covered by a Restriction Act. The Act declares in the first section that from and after ninety days from its passage, until the expiration of ten years, the coming of Chinese laborers to the United States, without any limitation of countries from which they might come, is suspended. During such suspension it shall not be lawful for any Chinese laborers to come, or having come, to remain in the United States. The twelfth section declares that any Chinese person found unlawfully within the United States shall be removed therefrom by direction of the President to the country from whence he came—not necessarily to China but to the country he came from. He concluded that all the provisions of the Restriction Act were consistent with each other, and that the full purpose of the law to exclude Chinese laborers from the United States would be defeated by any other construction.

A New Mining District.

The Winnemucca Silver State says a new mining district has been organized in the Antelope range of mountains, about eighteen miles from Humboldt House, and named Cedar District. Years ago rich float rock was found in that section, but nothing was done toward tracing it up or prospecting the range. This Summer Jahiel Smith found some galena ore partly oxidized near the base of a bluff, which led him to prospect for a mine. He succeeded in finding a body of galena ore about 20 feet wide, and carrying from $100 to $200 in silver to the ton. He has been at work for some weeks prospecting his find, and he is of the opinion that it is one of the largest bodies of ore ever found in the State. This mine is about two miles from Big Antelope Springs, in a range of mountains covered with cedar timber, and from which the district derives its name.

Alive With Catfish

The Silver State is informed by James Gould, of Mill City, that J. F. Clark has thousands of catfish of various sizes, from the small fry of this season to fish sixteen or eighteen inches long, in the sloughs on his ranch, at St. Mary's, on the Humboldt. Ten or twelve years ago he planted some catfish in those sloughs. The fish increased rapidly, as the sloughs seem to suit them as well as the rivers of the Western States, where they were brought from originally, and the waters are now literally alive with them. A great many of the fish found their way into the river, where they also thrive, and are getting to be quite plentiful. In handling a five pound catfish which he had caught, Mr. Gould ascertained that catfish have sharp teeth and know how to use them, as the marks on one of the fingers show.

The Colored Convention

LOUISVILLE, September 26.

Yesterday was a proud day for Fred Douglas. He walked down the hall to the President's chair, dressed for the occasion and the white hair of this fine old man streamed in the wind more bravely than ever before. His step was firm. Lawyers, merchants and doctors had assembled to hear the most celebrated colored man in the world. Douglas felt that he had a message to send to the country, and sent it in excellent form. He referred briefly to the old days when the spectre of slavery haunted the land and passed to those better and brighter days which brought freedom, education and enfranchisement. After referring to the causes leading to the Convention, he said: "Now that we are free, we must, like free men, take the reins in our own hands, and ask the world to receive us as their equal." They had been given platforms, but idle words would not suffice, but action. When the colored race come as cart drivers and servants, they are received, but never as scholars or statesmen, and they were to-day an oppressed and abject race. Trades unions refused him admission, mechanics withheld apprenticeship, and when he dies the old hatred follows him. The race line debars him from colleges and professions. They were here to raise the line and be made the equal of the whites. They were in convention to secure fair trials for colored men and that all the outrageous lynchings be stopped. And their business was to organize for their rights and redress their wrongs. Continuing, he said, "Some say we should not hold this convention. It first menaces the Republican party. Parties are made for men, and not men for parties. My hat was made for my head, not my head for my hat. If parties do right, stand by them, but when they do not, don't uphold them. Where there is a ruling class there is subject class, and when the day comes when this nation is governed by one class, it ceases to be a government of the people, for the people and by the people." The above is but a bare outline of the long and eloquent address. The speaker was generously applauded. At its conclusion a delegate from Louisiana moved the address be adopted as the address of the convention and sent to Congress. This motion was almost unanimously adopted. Then came a scene of confusion on a motion to appoint a committee on further organization. For hours the dispute went on. Holland, of Washington, presided in Douglas' stead, and vainly sought to bring order out of chaos.

The only important point the colored convention this morning, was a resolution by W. S. Wilson, of Louisiana, endorsing President Arthur. This raised a great stir, and caused much oratory, which was only quieted when L. D. Herbert, of Louisiana, moved to refer it to the committee on resolutions, which was adopted. Nothing yet accomplished.

Another Newspaper Reduction.

New York, September 25. The Herald this morning, without any flourish or editorial comment, puts the words "two cents" on its margin, where hitherto have been the words "three cents."

The "Chronicle" on the Northern Pacific.

The Chronicle, in an editorial drawing attention to the exorbitant local rates established by the Northern Pacific, says: "What Villard designs to do for California has become apparent by his offer to the Central Pacific to pool the rates on through freight, he taking the lion's share of the business. While consenting that they remain at their present high figures, he offers no hope of relief. If matters are to be settled on that basis, he must not expect any sympathy in California on account of his Wall Street troubles, and unless the Northern Pacific can see its way to independent action, let Gould and Huntington have the road, and compass under the weight of so monstrous a monopoly, their own destruction."

Declines to Assume Any Responsibility

It is stated on good authority that Neilson, acting as attorney for Miss Aggie Hill against Senator Sharon, declines to assume any responsibility in respect to the authenticity of the alleged marriage contract published some days ago. Miss Hill claims under said contract to be the legitimate wife of the Senator, and as such preferred against him a charge of adultery, as previously telegraphed. She intrusted Neilson with a copy of this contract, with instructions to publish it, which he did over her signature, but beyond the assertion of his client he does not pretend to vouch for the accuracy of the document.

Invigorating Food.

For the brain and nerve is what we need in these days for rush and worry. Parker's Ginger Tonic restores the vital energies and brings good health and joyous spirits quicker than anything you can use.

Faded hair recovers its youthful color and soft, silky texture by the use of Parker's Hair Balsam.

Internal Revenue.

Dispatches from Washington state that the forthcoming report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue will show that the Government has derived over $3,000,000,000 from Internal Revenue in the past twenty-one years. The first collections of any importance under the Internal Revenue system were made in 1863. Then there was an income tax, from which considerable revenue was derived, but its workings were so obnoxious to the people that Congress had to repeal the law authorizing its collection. Of the vast sum of three billions of dollars paid into the Treasury from Internal Revenue and Income taxes, New York paid about $565,000,000, the receipts from that State running as high as $71,000,000 in a single year in the income tax days. Last year Illinois paid about $30,000,000 in Internal Revenue taxes, which is the highest of any State in the Union, much of it being derived from breweries and distilleries. New York and Ohio each paid about $20,000,000 last year; Pennsylvania, about $8,000,000; and Massachusetts paid about $3,000,000. Illinois paid since the system was inaugurated over $350,000,000; Ohio, $335,000,000; Pennsylvania, $265,000,000; Massachusetts, $184,000,000; Kentucky, $145,000,000; Missouri, $108,000,000; and Indiana, $104,000,000. These States with New York which has paid $565,000,000, are the only ones whose total payments have exceeded or reached $100,000,000. All the Eastern States paid much more in the days of the income tax than they do now, while Illinois and Kentucky pay more now than they ever did before. For a while the Internal Revenue receipts exceeded $300,000,000 a year, but that was before the repeal of the Income Tax Act.

A European War Probable.

A London cable special says: The general feeling throughout Europe is of real uneasiness. It is felt that the relation of the Great Powers are daily growing more uncertain and dangerous and that the universal strain cannot be much longer sustained. The foreign policy of France has no part in producing this situation, but all diplomatists look with anxiety to the Balkan peninsula and a growing probability of a rupture between Russia and Austria. In the meantime Prince Bismarck is maturing and strengthening his great alliance which has for its first object the relief of Germany from her intolerable military burdens, and for its second general tranquility of Europe. It is not probable that either can be attained without a struggle, but a swift and a decisive contest in the east, from which France could at present be excluded, would have no terrors for either Germany or Austria.

The Secret of Roach's Low Bids.

The New York Herald's Washington special says: The members of the Naval Advisory Board are elated over the success which has followed the requirements of the contracts for the new cruisers for the manufacture of domestic steel. John Roach, before making bids, found he could produce steel at his works in Chester that would stand the test on every plate for 5½ cents per pound, which was 4 cents per pound lower than was estimated by the Advisory Board in fixing the limit to the cost of the services. This, it is said, is the secret of his low bids, and his ability to underbid all other ship-building firms in the United States. Having his own steel works, he has been able to establish this low price and to make contracts with other works in Boston and Philadelphia. The plates are submitted to the most severe tests, and are found to pass the trying ordeal.

Postal officials, commenting on suggestions of Postmaster General James that postage to Europe should be reduced to 2 cents and that a daily mail should be established, say that the steamship lines now get 1½ cents for every letter taken across the Atlantic, and they complain at the small pay. The postage now is 5 cents, which has to be divided between the different governments and steamship companies, and as a matter of fact, calculations show that it actually costs the government a third of a cent more to carry a letter to Europe than the postage.

Albert Ross and J. A. Templar returned to their Long Valley home yesterday.

Two men were arrested on suspicion of being the parties who broke out of the Wadsworth jail yesterday.

Judge Marshall brought in yesterday some fine looking specimens of quartz from his mine in Peavine district.

F. J. Wyatt has gone to Virginia to localize for the Chronicle. There will be an improvement perceptible immediately.

C. A. Forkner came in from Honey Lake yesterday with 200 head of fat sheep, which will be sold to Reno butchers.

A man was arrested at Truckee yesterday on suspicion of being the party who robbed Meyer's cigar store the night before.

As an evidence of the productivity of Nevada soil and climate Billy Fogg left at the JOURNAL office yesterday a common bluebell flower, measuring ten inches long and full four inches across the mouth. The flower grew on Steiner's ranch, south of town.

Depositories.

Secretary Teller having notified Senator Jones that by virtue of existing laws each State is entitled to two depositories of public documents, and requesting the Senator to designate libraries for this purpose, he has complied by naming the Miners' Union Library, of Virginia City, and the Locomotive and Engineers', of Carlin, and these libraries will hereafter be supplied with a copy of each and every document whose publication shall hereafter be ordered by Congress, together with a copy of such documents already published as can now be supplied.

The San Francisco Post says: the manufacture of sugar from sorghum has begun in Chicago. Should the process prove a success, it will open up great possibilities for the desert lands of Utah, Nevada and California. Sorghum flourishes in Utah and requires but little water. The soil is the same as that of Nevada and the sagebrush portions of California, and if these lands could be reclaimed by irrigation, we could produce sorghum enough to supply the United States with sugar. These same lands are adapted to the cultivation of the sugar beet, which has done well wherever planted in sagebrush land.

SUCCESSFUL WORK.

How it is Done and What is Being Done by Lindley & Co. at the English Mill.

In these dull times it is refreshing to hear the noise and clatter of the stamps and machinery at the English mill. Since Lindley & Co. took hold of the property the mill has undergone a complete transformation. The old saying that "the mill is an old rattle-trap, incapable of doing decent work," if ever true, certainly is not applicable at this time. The whole structure has been thoroughly and systematically overhauled, repaired and rearranged, and where any of the machinery was found radically defective it was cast aside and replaced with new. Duplicates of all the castings liable to give out are kept on hand, so that any break can be repaired in a few moments. The water wheel that furnishes the power to move the machinery is wonderfully massive. It is 32 feet in diameter and 16 feet wide, and turns on a solid iron shaft 10 inches in diameter and 22 feet long. Seven hundred inches of water keeps this monster wheel and all the machinery in the mill in regular and constant motion. Sixteen stamps have been kept in constant motion since the mill started and reduce on an average 30 tons of ore per day. It has cost Messrs. Lindley & Co. a great deal of money, first and last, to get this business started, and it is gratifying to know that they are more than pleased with the venture. Their mine at White Plains is looking better every day, and the foreman writes that he can now look on four sides of 7,000 tons of ore, enough to keep the mill in constant motion for eight months to come, with an unlimited quantity in prospect. With this fact, together with the further fact that the mill has been in successful and satisfactory operation for nearly two months, it is fair and reasonable to class this among the permanent and foremost branches of industry in Reno.

A Robbery.

A not over bold or daring robbery occurred night before last, by which E. Meyer, the cigar dealer, was the victim. Mr. Meyer had gone home a little earlier than usual on account of having a sick child, and left a boy, about 12 years old, to close up. Soon after Meyer left a man stepped into the cigar stand and enquired for the proprietor. He was told that Mr. Meyer was at home. The man said he wanted to see him and would go to his house. He left and was gone a short time and returned apparently in great haste and told the boy that Mr. Meyer wanted him at the house immediately, and that he, (the accommodating burglar,) would watch the store till the boy returned. With visions of the sick child, the probable necessity for a physician whom Mr. Meyer could not leave to summons, and with the confiding nature and honest simplicity of a child the boy started for the house without a moment's hesitation, leaving the cowardly villain in quiet possession of the premises. When the lad made known the cause of his visit to the house Mr. Meyer "tumbled to the racket" as the saying goes, and returned to the store to find $12 50 in money, a case of meerschaum pipes, a lot of quartz jewelry and his self-constituted clerk gone. The officers were at once notified, and as the thief is well known the probabilities are he will yet be captured.

A Favorite Route.

There arrived at Reno yesterday morning 532 pounds of freight by express, consigned to Alturas, Cal. This led to inquiry and it was ascertained that express charges on freight from Sacramento to Alturas, by way of Reno, is 5 1/2 cents a pound, and that for the same class of freight via Oroville and Redding it is 14 cents. It was further found that passengers for that part of the country can save both time and money by traveling over the Reno route. The passage fare from Sacramento to Alturas via Reno is $28, and by Redding route $40. Passengers are taken through over the Reno route in two days and two nights, which is 24 hours less time than the Redding route. This route has the advantage of passing over a smooth valley road the entire distance, while the other is rough and mountainous. The service is performed on the Reno route with large, roomy coaches, and hotel accommodations all that could be asked, while on the other, light wagons are used and the hotel accommodations are said to be anything but first-class.

A Chicago Merchant's Experience.

After I had become almost skin and bone, with neither strength, appetite nor ambition left, and the doctors couldn't help me, two bottles of Parker's Ginger Tonic cured me completely. M. R. Westcott, Lamp Mfr., Chicago.

An Extension of Life.

Hurtado and Raten, the murderers who were to be hanged in Sacramento next Friday, have obtained an extension of life for a year at least, and perhaps longer. They were tried and convicted under the provisions of the new Criminal Code, on information instead of after indictment by Grand Jury, and their counsel raised the point that the proceedings were in violation of the United States Constitution. While expressing some doubt as to the soundness of the objection, Judge Field granted the writ of error in both cases, with a stay of proceedings until the question can be passed upon by the U. S. Supreme Court, which will take a year, if not longer.

Valuable Hints.

To take the grease out of clothing, lay a piece of brown paper under the garment and another over it, and iron with a warm iron.

A teaspoonful of charcoal in half a glass of warm water often relieves a sick head-ache. It makes an excellent poultice for wounds. It is also a great disinfectant and sweetens the air of a room.

There is nothing better for a cut than finely powdered resin.

If stovepipes are rusting in Summer, rub them in linseed oil. Eucalypti and whiting will brighten a smoky tea kettle.

Ammonia is a remedy for stings and bites; it will also neutralize the effects of poison-ivy.

Strew salt or fine sand on a floor from which a carpet has been removed, to prevent dust from rising.

Tip for Tip.

Copying from the JOURNAL about our week's races next month, the Carson Index thus comments:

In this connection it should be mentioned that our townsman John P. Sweeney was in Reno at the same time and contributed generously to the fund. The racing thus projected ought to have an adjourned season of three or four days at Carson. It depends on the public spirit of our citizens whether this can be accomplished or not. Mr. Sweeney proposes to test our disposition for races at the Treadway track. He ought to be generously encouraged.

Mr. Sweeney generously contributed $20 to the Reno races, and as one good turn deserves another, the JOURNAL will contribute $20 toward the purses for races at Carson.

Mining Statistics.

By laborious statistics, running through thirty years, in the United States, from 1851 to 1880, from a large list of mines reported, it is shown that while $700,000,000 have been expended on mines of gold, silver and lead, these mines have returned $2,200,000,000, being 300 per cent. profit in cash.

The Walker Lake Bulletin says: Contrary to general expectation, the wheat crop of Mason Valley has turned out very well. The average yield was about thirty bushels to the acre. A great many ranchers are contemplating raising more wheat and less barley, and the want of a good mill is the general topic. There is a large population which would consume the valley flour if the enterprise was once started and while giving cheaper bread to this section, the valley would receive a considerable addition to its income.

A FORTUNE.

may be made by hard work, but can neither be made nor enjoyed without health. To those leading sedentary lives Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" is a real friend. It stimulates the liver, purifies the blood, and is the best remedy for consumption, which is a scrofulous disease of the lungs. By all druggists.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. Feb. 21-24-1917

Ayer's Hair Vigor promotes the growth and improves the beauty of the hair. It imparts an attractive appearance, a delightful and lasting perfume. While it stimulates the roots, cleanses the scalp, and adds elegance to luxuriance, its ingredients are harmless and its effects are enduring; and thus it proves itself to be at once the best and cheapest article for toilet use.

MISCELLANEOUS.

To Dyspeptics.

The most common signs of Dyspepsia, or indigestion, are an oppression at the stomach, nausea, flatulency, water-brash, heart-burn, vomiting, loss of appetite, and constipation. Dyspeptic patients suffer untold miseries, bodily and mental. They should stimulate the digestion, and secure regular daily action of the bowels, by the use of moderate doses of Ayer's Pills.

After the bowels are regulated, one of these Pills, taken each day after dinner, is usually all that is required to complete the cure.

AYER'S PILLS are sugar-coated and purely vegetable—a pleasant, entirely safe, and reliable medicine for the cure of all disorders of the stomach and bowels. They are the best of all purgatives for family use.
